How do I get an output style which isn’t in EndNote?

If you haven’t already done so, check the style isn’t already in EndNote’s full listing of styles which is found:

in MS Word click on the words “Select Another Style…”

And also in EndNote

The list looks like this:
Output styles which are not found in the EndNote program may be available for downloading at this site
https://endnote.com/downloads/styles/

Downloading instructions are provided on the site. Check your journal name for accuracy, there are several journals that have similar sounding names.
